ArtsTech's Computer System Acceptance and Disposal Policies

ArtsTech is an environmental-friendly organization that believes that most computer equipment and accessories can be reused, refurbished, or recycled. Only through a commitment to keep this equipment out of our landfills and to properly dispose of unusable parts will keep our environment safe.

Policies:

ArtsTech accepts Pentium III 733 or higher CPUs and laptops that are in working condition or capable of being repaired.

ArtsTech accepts working 17" CRT monitors or any working flat screen monitors. Persons dropping off a broken monitor will be charged $15 for proper disposal. ArtsTech uses a certified disposal organization, Surplus Exchange that guarantees the monitor will be destroyed according to approved rules and regulations and not be sent to any domestic or foreign landfill.

ArtsTech accepts working keyboards, printers, modems, power supplies, and other accessories necessary to make a computer function properly.

ArtsTech will assess any donor's equipment for reuse or disposal and offer a recommendation for non-usable equipment.

Once ArtsTech accepts a computer equipment donation all efforts to prevent equipment from being sent to a landfill is our commitment. ArtsTech will refurbish, reuse, and/or recycle all equipment to the best of our abilities. Currently, 95% of donated equipment is given new life.

Thank you for your commitment to the environment.
